Personal Trainer

Powerhouse Gym Denver is a gym and fitness facility located in the West Washington Park neighborhood at 300 E. Alameda Ave (corner of Logan & Alameda). This is a new gym with a great membership base. We are currently seeking a motivated and energetic Personal Trainer to join our team.

As a Personal Trainer for Powerhouse Gym Denver you will be an employee (NOT an independent contractor) and will be required to maintain a minimum of 30 training sessions per week. Clients are obtained through “new member orientations”, working the floor, placing calls to existing members and your ability to create relationships.

Potential candidates must have a minimum of two years experience selling personal training or other fitness related services. Potential candidates will have a background and/or education in Exercise Physiology and a nationally accepted certification from any of the following: ACE, ACSM, NASM, NSCA, etc. In addition we require each trainer to be certified in CPR/First Aid. As an employee of Powerhouse Gym Denver you will be covered under the businesses general liability insurance.

We are looking for a Trainer who is career oriented, has the right attitude and wants to be part of high energy team. Compensation is 45%-60% of each session based on experience and talent (average session rate is $55/hour). Health insurance, vacation and sick time are available for the right candidate.

If you're interested in this opportunity and posses the above requirements, please send a brief introduction and resume to info@powerhousegymdenver.com. Please title the subject of your email Personal Trainer Position.

Thanks!
